Six-figure deal for ambitious new independent studio

TS5 is reporting that fledgling Middlesbrough-based indie developer 3rd Dimension Creations has been commissioned by Blitz Games for an Xbox Live Arcade title.

The developer, set up by two Teeside University graduates three years ago, was born out of the frustrations of the founders when they failed to get jobs in the industry due to lack of experience.

Prior to the new unannounced title, TS5 worked with Atomic Planet on the PS2 version of Beverly Hills Cop.

Speaking of the new title, co-founder Dave Allanson told TS5: "We can't reveal details but it will be a product that has never been done before."
